JOHNSON & BELL LTD.

Since its inception in 1975, Johnson & Bell Ltd. has been one of the Midwest's premier litigation firms. While the firm has a reputation for its civil litigation defense work, its scope has broadened over the years to include everything from commercial and appellate litigation to employment and environmental law.

"As trial lawyers we have the ability to represent businesses in any kind of lawsuit," says President William V. Johnson. "We have the trial experience to be the go-to firm for businesses."

With more than 110 attorneys, the firm has the resources and expertise to resolve a multitude of issues, whether through trial or settlement. Johnson & Bell attorneys have garnered successful results in both trial and appellate practice and in federal and state courts. Firm Vice President Jack Childers adds, "We're thrilled to have three of our lawyers honored as Chicago's best and we have many more that are following in their footsteps." Many of Johnson & Bell's lawyers have also been AV® Preeminent™ rated by Martindale-Hubbell® or selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America® or Illinois Super Lawyers.

Johnson credits the firm's attorneys—who are both skilled negotiators and aggressive advocates—for its success. "Many firms work up a case to settle it, we work it up to try it; even if we end up settling, we get a better result for our clients because our opponents know we are prepared to try the case to verdict. We live in the courtroom."
