Adam Costello is an associate in the Health Care practice group and concentrates his practice on defending medical malpractice cases involving hospitals, universities, physicians, nurses, and nursing homes. Before joining Johnson & Bell, Adam worked as an associate for MGE Trust based out of Lansing, Michigan for two years, where he focused on developing and maintaining a multimillion-dollar perpetual trust.

Adam received his J.D. from DePaul College of Law with a concentration in Business Law and Health Care. During his time at DePaul, he took an active role in various student organizations, including the Student Bar Association. Additionally, he was admitted to the prestigious exchange program with Vienna University of Economics and Business during his second year. Prior to attending DePaul College of Law, he attended DePaul University where he earned bachelor's degrees in both economics and finance.
